Building Livable Communities with Transit

Rail~Volution 2022 Conference Guide

October 30 – November 2

InterContinental Hotel | Miami, Florida

Welcome to Rail~Volution 2022

Four full days in Miami and South Florida!

Rail~Volution 2022 takes on the big issues and delivers a wealth of in-depth sessions at the intersection of mobility & development. Throughout Rail~Volution 2022 there will be a steady focus on equity and sessions on such hot button topics as the bus driver shortage, equitable procurement and workforce development.

Being here is key! And the magic comes from being exposed to cross-sector perspectives. Meet new people. Go to sessions outside your comfort zone. Draw from the schedule of sessions and activities to create your own mix of learning, networking and exploring.

A huge shout out and thank you to the Miami Local Host Committee for opening up South Florida for us in so many ways. And also big thanks to our Sponsors, Exhibitors, Rail~Volution Partners, the New Rail~Volutionaries – and you! Together we'll define what it takes to build transit-oriented communities in this rapidly changing environment.

Be curious. Explore. Stoke your passion.
Build your network for the year ahead.

Ideas transform communities

At HDR, we're helping clients

Building Resilience

One of South Florida's great attractions is its proximity to water. And yet this same proximity makes Miami vulnerable to extreme weather events, rising sea levels, and other impacts of climate change. How is the region building resilience for the future? How is transit directly impacted by climate change and a critical part of the solution? Get a local and national view of what it takes to be resilient.

New Rail~Volutionaries

The New Rail~Volutionaries, a networking group of more than 40 people of different backgrounds from across the United States and Canada, plans several events for the annual Rail~Volution conference. This year, join them for an informal welcome on Saturday night for those arriving early to the conference. On Sunday, there's an event with students at the University of Miami to discuss careers in transportation. On Monday and Tuesday, during the lunchtime break, the New Rail~Volutionaries are leading walking tours from the hotel. The big event every year from the New Rail~Volutionaries is the PK Slam, powered by PechaKucha.™ Wednesday morning, if you're up for it, join a wellness run in downtown Miami.

All of these events are meant to engage new and emerging professionals in the movement to build more livable communities around catalytic transportation investments.

Thanks to New Rail~Volutionaries Chair, Shantelle Dreamer, Senior Sustainable Transportation Planner with WSP, and to all the New Rail~Volutionaries who've lent a hand this year. If you'd like to find out more about participating, please join one of the events this year and talk to a New Rail~Volutionary!

Tuesday Plenary – Agencies & Advocates:
Homelessness and Public Transportation AICP CM 1.5

Sponsored by: HNTB

Grand Ballroom, Mezzanine Level

Even before the pandemic, many transit agencies and cities grappled with the challenges of a growing vulnerable population – those experiencing homelessness, addiction and mental health crises – in and around stations and vehicles. What is the responsibility of transit agencies to tackle issues that were traditionally seen as beyond their core mission? How can transit agencies become effective advocates for their most vulnerable users? Collaboration is key. Find out how leaders from diverse backgrounds are exploring connections and shifting the boundaries between transit, cities and social services.

Moderator: Daniel Gibson, MSW, Regional Vice President, Miami-Dade, Allegany Franciscan Ministries, Miami, FL
Leslie Richards, General Manager, Chief Executive Officer, Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA), Philadelphia, PA
Stephanie Wiggins, Chief Executive Officer, Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (METRO), Los Angeles, CA
Diana Stanley, Executive Director, The Lord's Place, West Palm Beach, FL

Refreshing the Movement

More than 25 years ago, elected leaders, transportation planners and community members came together to re-imagine the interface between transit and communities. Join us as we unveil and launch a new identity to carry this mission forward, toward the goal of more just and sustainable transit-oriented communities.

Earl Blumenauer, Congressman, 3rd District, Oregon; Rail-Volution Board of Directors, Washington, DC

Diana Mendes, AICP, Corporate President, Infrastructure and Mobility Equity, HNTB Corporation; President, Rail-Volution Board of Directors, Arlington, VA

MOVING FORWARD

The Citizens' Independent Transportation Trust (CITT) is the 15-member volunteer body that was created to oversee how Miami-Dade County's half-cent Surtax funds are invested in transportation projects. Trust members review and make decisions on contracts requesting the People's Transportation Plan (PTP) funding, monitor the progress of surtax funded road and transit projects, and oversee the management of the PTP Municipal Transportation Program.

The Surtax generates more than $300 million annually and has been used for a broad range of projects, including the Orange Line Metrorail extension to Miami International Airport, new Metromover and Metrorail vehicles, new eco-friendly buses, upgraded traffic signals, the construction of rapid transit corridors, and a variety of municipal projects.

Visit www.miamidade.gov/citt for more information about the CITT and the PTP. Or call 305-375-1357.

Sustainability

We're working to make the conference more sustainable. Here's how:

- Saving paper. The Guide is more than 60 percent smaller than the program of past years.
- Reducing plastic waste. We use glassware and china rather than plastic whenever possible. And provide water stations to refill your cup or water bottle.
- Reducing food waste. Props to the hotel: untouched leftover meals are distributed to those in need, via Feeding South Florida and other local nonprofit organizations.

PHOENIX

November 5-8, 2023

If you're picturing suburban sprawl, hot weather and cactus, think again!

Sure, we've got hiking in urban mountain preserves and a 180-mile canal system with bike trails connecting cities across the Valley, but metro Phoenix also has a diverse community with a rich history and stories to tell.

Transit is shaping our communities in the country's fastest-growing county. Since 2008, Valley Metro® Rail has transformed the region, generating more than $16 billion in public and private investment across our 28-mile system. Our comprehensive network also includes 105 bus routes, a robust vanpool program, regional paratransit and new expansions into microtransit. Attend next year's conference and see firsthand how mobility and development are evolving the Phoenix area.

With two light rail extensions under construction, a streetcar line that began operating this spring and Bus Rapid Transit on the horizon, Phoenix is on the rise.
