Areas of Opportunity: New/Planned Projects

River North (RiNo) was once a bustling industrial hub with warehouses, rail, and manufacturing. In recent years, RiNo has become one of the fastest growing and transformative districts in the city of Denver. Adaptive reuse and new mixed use projects are evolving the area for artists, entrepreneurs and young professionals.

TAXI Development

The 20-acre former Yellow Cab terminal on the Platte River has been repurposed into a mixed-use community made up of eight industrial-chic buildings. The TAXI development houses workspaces, residences as well as complementary amenities that are aligned with the needs of the unique community.

Brighton Boulevard Redevelopment

Brighton Boulevard in River North has been the thoroughfare connecting Interstate-70 to Downtown Denver. Now, Brighton Blvd is being redeveloped to create a safer, more walkable community. Projects include protected bike lanes, pedestrian amenities such as sidewalks and landscaping, new stoplights, and protected bike lanes.
